Hello,
we are Royal Cornwall

Chief Executive
Recruitment Information Pack
December 2018
Welcome to Royal Cornwall Hospitals NHS Trust

Dear colleague

Thank you for the interest that you have shown in becoming our Chief Executive. This pivotal role will lead our colleagues and our business through significant change over the next few years, so that we can provide world-class and outstanding care for our patients. We are already on our journey to improvement and have made some great strides in the care we give our patients and in how we care for and develop our colleagues.

We’ll make no bones about it, this role will be challenging and we have struggled with financial and leadership stability over the last few years. This isn’t for the faint-hearted and not everybody will be capable of making such fundamental change happen and happen at pace. We have a significant culture change to make.

The Royal Cornwall Hospitals NHS Trust is the main provider of acute and specialist care services in Cornwall and the Isles of Scilly. It serves a population of around 450,000 people, a figure that can almost double with visitors during the busiest times of the year. We employ over 5,000 staff and have a budget of around £420 million.

The Trust has teaching hospital status and works in partnership with the University of Exeter Medical School and the University of Plymouth Faculty of Health and Social Work. The Trust is continuously developing its clinical services and is committed to maximising the range of specialist care that can be offered locally. The Trust has an established and growing reputation for research and innovation. Over the past ten years we have made many important service and environmental improvements but we do not underestimate how far we have yet to travel.

In October 2017, the Care Quality Commission rated the Trust overall as ‘Inadequate’ after a period of unsatisfactory progress and the time is therefore right to have already established a sustainable and structured approach to quality and safety through a Trust Improvement Programme.

The Trust is a key partner in an emerging Integrated Care Partnership and has an important role to play in leading system change. Our Chief Executive with our Chair and other leaders will bring great influence to bear on the success of integrated service delivery which makes sense to our citizens.

The most important people to help us achieve our goals are our colleagues who deserve a strong and charismatic Chief Executive to lead them on their journey. If that’s you, we’ll be delighted for you to let us know more.

Sincerely yours

Dr Mairi McLean, Acting Chair
Our vision, values and purpose

The Trust has set its vision as ‘Working together to provide outstanding care’ to reflect our ambition and principles with a set of core values developed through engagement with our colleagues. Our values are:

- Care + Compassion
  We see the person in every patient, communicating with honesty and compassion. We listen and act on feedback to ensure outstanding care.

- Inspiration + Innovation
  We welcome new ideas and use our initiative to solve problems together. We value learning and research to improve services.

- Working Together
  We work to create a positive team spirit, recognise achievements and celebrate success. We are open, inclusive and want to continually improve.

The role in a nutshell

The Chief Executive role is the Accountable Officer who is expected to lead and manage the development of the Trust to provide a high quality and consistently safe, patient-centred service. The successful candidate will take executive responsibility for all aspects of the performance of the Trust. It’s a given that the job holder is also expected to show outstanding and inspirational leadership to all of our colleagues so that we are able to operate in an efficient yet effective manner.

The role requires a brilliant and capable leader who can lead our colleagues through the largest and most important set of changes that we have undertaken. We have made many improvements in a relatively short time, but there is no opportunity for us to step-back. In short, our colleagues deserve a great place to work and our patients deserve great care – it will be your role to deliver both.

You’ll need to be both adept and comfortable at managing and influencing our key stakeholders including all health and social care organisations within the Cornwall STP, Non-Executive Directors and Patient Experience representatives to name but a few.

You’ll need to be flexible, able to communicate effectively, have limitless amounts of courage, tenacity and patience and the great combination of humility and presence. It goes without saying that the responsibility that comes with this role is huge, but so are the rewards.

You’ll be responsible for an executive team comprising, Director of Finance, Director of Nursing/Midwifery & AHPs, Medical Director, People & OD Director, Director of Strategy & Performance and the Chief Operating Officer. You’ll be accountable to the Board of Directors through a principal reporting relationship with the Trust Chair.

A full job description is included in this pack.
Our structure

We've included here our top-level organisation structure. We are in the process of realigning our current four divisional structure to seven care groups. This will provide for a more robust service delivery and greater accountability which will ultimately provide a better standard of care for our patients. This programme is still undergoing consultation.
We’d love to hear from you

To apply for this post, log on to NHS Jobs and search for this post or alternatively click here to go straight to the advertisement and apply through our website.

You’ll need to complete the application form in full and upload your current and full CV detailing your career and achievements to date. We’d also like you to submit a supporting statement that clearly demonstrates why you are the right person for this role. Just make sure your statement is no more than two pages.

It is a condition of appointment that the successful candidate will be required to complete and pass a Fit and Proper Persons Test. Further detail on the test and the standards are available by clicking here or by searching for ‘Fit and Proper Persons Test’ online and navigating to the NHS Confederation resources.
